

Please continue to support this list. It is so annoying to pick up your phone that you pay for and deal with sales people. If i go through the trouble for putting myself on the do not call list i expect it to be honored and had good reason to do so.